The Symposium aims to serve as an important scientific forum for the exchange of knowledge and experience in the fields of marine research and inland waters, bringing together researchers, academics, professionals and representatives of relevant organisations from Greece and abroad.

During the Symposium, scientific presentations and recent research developments will be presented on topics including:

- Marine ecology and oceanography
- Water resources management
- Climate change impacts
- Aquaculture
- Sustainable development of aquatic ecosystems

As part of the event, a dedicated exhibition area will be provided for sponsors and supporters of the Symposium, offering them the opportunity to showcase their activities and services to a specialised and highly targeted audience.

In addition, sponsors will have the opportunity, if they wish, to give a 10–15 minute presentation during a special session on topics relevant to the scientific fields of the Symposium. This could include a presentation of your company, an interesting new application, a new or innovative instrument, or another relevant topic.
